A Terrible Tennessee Fire at Chicago.

Eight Persons are Smothered and Burned to Death in the Ruins of the Hotel.

The Handsome Grand Opera House Block is Burned Down at Louisville.

BIG FIRES.

Eight Persons Smothered in a Burning Building.

CHICAGO, June 7.—Eight persons were smothered and burned to death in the frame houses at 731 and 733 South Canal street at 4 o'clock this morning. The fire broke out in the cellar of 733 and quickly burned through the first floor, which is on a level with the ground. The next floor was soon a blaze and the fire spread through the wooded walls of the basement and No. 731 was soon wrapped in flames. Both houses were filled with smoke before any of the occupants were aroused. Many of the sleepers were doubtless smothered in their beds. It is believed the fire was the work of an incendiary.

A BIG FIRE AT LOUISVILLE.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., June 7.—At 3:50 this morning a fire was discovered in the new Grand Theatre behind the stage. All of the interior of the theatre, the rear of the building occupied by the Kentucky School of Medicine, the restaurant, on Grand street, the rear of Denunzia's fruit store and the barber shop on Jefferson street were burned out and serious damage was done to other stores on both Green and Jefferson streets. The block is valued at $100,000 and is a complete loss. The Green street front, which was occupied by the Medical College, being all that remains standing.

Shortly after 5 a. m. the fire was got under control. The buildings including the theatre, were all in the Davis block, which was almost entirely destroyed. The loss on the building is $40,000; insured. The loss on Grand Theatre furnishing $18,000; insured for $4,500. Kentucky School of Medicine, $5,000; insured. Loss on stock to the other occupants, $6,000; fully insured. The new Grand Theatre had just been closed for the season, and will be rebuilt at once.

Convicts Converted.

CHICAGO, June 7.—Archbishop Feehan yesterday visited the penitentiary at Joliet and confirmed 117 convicts, who for five months have been instructed by Brother Adjutor. Sacred music was furnished by the convict choir and orchestra. Mass was celebrated by Father Francia. One of those who were confirmed is serving his fifth term.

Death of a Prominent Preacher.

New York, June 7.—Rev. Dr. Pharellus Church died in Tarrytown, N. Y. Saturday. He was one of the most prominent Baptist clergymen in the country. He was born in 1801, and was one of the proprietors of the Examiner, the leading paper of his denomination. He did not talk.

St. Louis, Mo., June 7.—Late last night William Roberts, a day laborer, was shot and fatally wounded by Eugene Shangle, a brakeman on the Iron Mountain railroad. Shangle made a statement that he heard some one in his room and receiving no reply to his inquiry who was there, fired.

Richmond has a well but no gas or oil. The well reached about the depth of 1,400 feet Saturday morning and then struck Blue Lick water, below which no gas can be found. Digging was stopped at once and a meeting of the stockholders was called for this afternoon to decide upon a new place to dig a well. The contractor has offered to dig another well to the depth of 1,000 feet at a reduced rate. The stockholders have not yet lost confidence, but will dig again.

CAUGHT A THIEF.

Officer Mike Singleton and the Marshals Cage Wm. Hitchcock.

The other evening the cigar and confectionary store of young Fry and the shoe store of one Shenlein, in Nebraska, the suburb across the river, were robbed of cigars, candies, cakes, a pair of boots and two pairs of shoes.

Officer Mike Singleton fastened the crime on to Wm. Hitchcock and laid for him. His mother, Mrs. Grigsby, lives west of the city and her house was shadowed. Mr. Singleton went out from his beat this morning and later Ma shal Meyer and Jesse Patton joined him. They got on trail and Singleton found his man asleep in the orchard. He was shackled, and the boots, cigars, cakes and confectionery were found in his room. He had a soft satchel and his mother said he brought it in last Wednesday concealing a broad cloth suit and a pair of low shoes. He had the clothes on and looked like a minister. He certainly stole these garments.

Hitchcock has served a term in the pen for stealing clothes from his brother-in-law, Duck Leiber. He was held for trial in the sum of $500 and will go up again for a round term.

FORT WAYNE SOCIETY.

A few Gossipy Personals of Much Prominence.

These society items are published in the Cincinnati Enquirer:

Miss Mattie Probasco is expected home this week. Her marriage with Mr. Orin Warner will take place at Austin, Ill., June 9, at 10 a. m. The wedding will be a very quiet affair at the house of relatives of the groom.

Mrs. Ellsworth, the guest of Miss Emma Hoagland, left Thursday for Chicago.

Mrs. Davis, of Defiance, Ohio, is in the city, the guest of Mrs. Dr. Younge. Master Roy and Harry Keator left Tuesday to spend their summer vacation at Rosendale, on the Hudson.

Master Ross McCulloch returned from Washington with his father, and will spend the summer here.

Mrs. H. Conger is visiting her daughter, Mrs. F. A. Gorham, at Grand Rapids, Mich.

The Misses Freeman and Mrs. Mary Sturgis, with a party of friends, spent last week in Chicago. They went to attend the opera.

Important to the Public.

The change of time, June 6, on the Fort Wayne, Cincinnati and Louisville railroad will be of interest to travelers:

Train No. 3, leaving Fort Wayne at 6:50 a. m., makes direct connection at Muncie for Indianapolis at 11:25 a. m. Returning, parties can leave Indianapolis at 4:35 p. m., arriving at Fort Wayne at 9:10 p. m. This gives five hours between trains at the capital city. Train No. 1 leaves Fort Wayne at 10:50 a. m. in place of 11 a. m., arriving at Indianapolis at 5:15 p. m., Cincinnati at 6:40 p. m., and at Louisville at 7:15 p. m.

HEED IT, MY BOY.

Bob Smith's old Partner Writes a Letter to His Son.

"Major H. C. Russell, the gambler who committed suicide last Sunday, had evidently seen the error of his ways," says the Indianapolis News, "for a few days previous to his death he wrote a long, affectionate letter to his son in Chicago, in which he said: 'I am rejoiced to hear that you are getting along so well. Now, do not go around gambling houses, keep out of liquor shops and have nothing to do with gamblers, and you will never regret it. Select your associates from industrious, respectable boys, and spend your leisure moments in instructing yourself by reading histories and works of science. You have your own way to make through the world, and it is only by perseverance and industry that you can hope to succeed. You have talent enough, and I hope experience sufficient, to avoid all disolute characters, who can only lead you to ruin. You know that I speak from a long and sad experience, and you can have no better guide, than to take my own unhappy life, and avoid therinto which I have fallen. I only live in hopes that an opportunity may be afforded me to make some amends for the errors of the past."

A GREAT CATCH.

Sheriff Nelson Runs Down B. C. Daniel, a Crook, in an all Night Ride.

B. C. Daniel came to the city some days ago and approached T. J. Fleming, who owns the old Kiser store. He proposed to purchase the place and all week they were invoicing. Saturday night Daniel fled with Fleming's money and Sheriff Nelson started in pursuit. He followed him to Arcola and then to Columbia City where he put hands on his man and lodged him in jail this afternoon.

Daniel is a slick looking fellow and worked his game well. He said he came from Buffalo, N. Y., and made an appointment to meet Mr. Fleming at the store last night. Mr. Fleming did not see his man, but after going to his desk missed his bank roll of over $100 and at once suspected Daniel.

The fellow managed to get a false key and did his work as was his purpose, when the most money was there.

Mr. Fleming now believes the fellows sole scheme was robbery and gives Sheriff Nelson great credit for the catch, like which nothing is recorded here.

CHOICE BITS.

The News That is Culled for the "Sentinel" Readers.

Seven pupils, five of them females, graduated from the Wabash high school.

The Frankfort high school turned out three sweet girl graduates and four boys, one colored.

Only three students graduated from the Newcastle high school, one male and two females.

Will R. Moffat sues the town of Huntington for breaking his leg on a defective sidewalk. His demand is for $3,000.

The south wall of Chamberlain's new block, at Elkhart, Ind., fell out but no person was injured. The damage is heavy.

The colored people of Lafayette are rehearsing "Romeo and Juliet," which they will put on the stage in a couple of weeks. Have mercy on them.

The Portland Sun publishes this democratic ticket: "For state senator—Adams, Jay and Blackford, Silas W. Hale; for representative—Jay, Adams and Blackford, Elisha Pierce; for representative—Jay and Adams, Samuel S. Selvey; for prosecutor—Jay and Adams, Oscar H. Adair."

Frank Lewis has been chosen to represent the Lafayette bicyclists in the tour of Indiana, and leaves on his wheel July 5 for Russiaville, Ind., where he will join the other seventy-five representatives and go with them on their trip through the state. The company will reach Lafayette about July 12. The trip entire will cover a distance of 300 miles.

The impression is gaining ground at Wabash that Jesse W. Starr, the contractor, who last fall secured the contract for the construction of a system of water works in that city, will be unable to carry out the terms of the ordinance. The city council has notified Starr, who is at his home in Philadelphia, that unless he visits the city or resumes work by June 14 the franchise will be revoked.

Chicago detectives captured in a State street store a prepossessing woman who attempted to conceal a Jersey on her person. In her room at a leading hotel was found over $200 worth of silks and jewelry, evidently stolen since her arrival last Wednesday evening. She finally gave her name as Mrs. Henry Lennox, of Valparaiso, Ind. Her husband, who is a prominent merchant and Knight Templar, was telegraphed for.

TROUT!

Engage the Honeymoon Party To-day.

President Cleveland and Colonel Lamont go off on a Little Jaunt by Themselves.

While the Ladies Tempt the fish in a Brook near the Mountain Cottage.

IN GREAT DEMAND.

The President Going on a Yacht Cruise in August.

CHICAGO, June 7.—A Washington special says: "Within the last few days the president has accepted an invitation from W. S. Hopkins, of Oakland, on the St. Clair river, near Detroit, to spend the month of August as his guest at that place and to cruise upon the lakes upon the steam yacht 'Sigma.' About August 1, the yacht will meet the president at Buffalo, and after cruising awhile, going as far as the straits of Mackinaw, and perhaps Duluth, the president will join Mr. Hopkins at his cottage at Oakland. Although the president has lived at Buffalo all his life, he has never been up the lakes, and he is very desirous of making the journey."

ALL OUT FISHING.

DEER PARK, June 7.—Despite somewhat threatening clouds, the president and Colonel Lamont started about nine o'clock for a trouting expedition. Their destination was one of the reserves of Mr. G. W. Delawder, the fish commissioner of Maryland, situated on Deer Creek, six miles northwest of this place. Mr. Delawder expected to join them there. Mrs. Cleveland and Mrs. Lamont remained at the cottage, but expected to go fishing in an adjacent stream this afternoon, in company with two little sons of Mr. H. G. Davis. The weather is hot and sultry and a rain storm seems imminent.

The presidential party at Deer Park was yesterday increased by the arrival of Colonel and Mrs. Lamont. They attended evening service in the Garrett church at Oakland, where the daughter of a farmer was baptized Frances in honor of the president's bride. It has been decided that immediately after the adjournment of congress President and Mrs. Cleveland will make a tour of the Adirondack and White mountains, for which railway officials are already arranging details.

FOREIGN BUDGET.

Political Excitement in London—A Riot Over Garibaldi.

LONDON, June 7.—The political excitement throughout England, and particularly in London, is very great. Politicians of all parties are preparing for the general election with much more vigor than has heretofore been witnessed. A large number of tory aspirants for seats in the house of commons are retiring in districts where the joint poll of the conservative vote with that of the anti-Gladstone whigs will probably secure the election of a unionist.

The mayor of Cork was offered a knighthood at the reception given by Lord Aberdeen, in that city, but he refused the honor.

A dispatch from London, yesterday, states that "eight liberals still hesitate about supporting the home rule bill. If they vote with the opposition the bill will be lost. It is regarded as possible that the vote may result in a tie, in which event Speaker Peel will give the deciding vote." The bill will be voted on to-night.

An Orange-Catholic riot took place at Belfast yesterday during the funeral of Curran. The Orangemen pelted stones at the procession, and the Catholics, in retaliation, made an assault on the Orangemen and drove them away. One man was stabbed and several were cut in the head.

If the government is defeated on the home rule bill to-night it is understood the house of commons will be adjourned until Thursday next, and that the cabinet will be summoned to meet at noon to-morrow to decide upon the advisability of counselling the queen to dissolve parliament. Mr. Gladstone refused to include Scotland and Wales in the Irish home rule bill.

ROME, June 7.—During the celebration of the anniversary of General Garibaldi's death, at Padua, an anti-Austrian demonstration resulted in a riot and a conflict with the police, in which several persons were wounded. Fifty-eight of the rioters were arrested.

VIENNA, June 7.—The reichsrath is debating the first of a series of laws against socialists, providing for their trial without a jury.

THE NATION.

How its Affairs Go On in Congress. WASHINGTON, June 7.—In the Senate the oleomargarine bill was referred to committee on agriculture.

Senator Kenna has formally accepted the chairmanship of the democratic congressional committee.

HOUSE.

Mr. Kelly, of Pennsylvania, arraigned Mr. Wheeler, of Alabama, for working a speech of Edwin N. Stanton into the Record under pension privileges. Wheeler was not present and Mr. Kelly will refer to the matter again to-morrow forenoon.

Mr. Crisp, of Georgia, apologized to the distinguished member from Indiana, Mr. Holman, for harsh words used toward him Saturday. Mr. Holman accepted the kind words.

The resolutions sympathizing with Gladstone, and a bill giving Mrs. Durbin Ward $100 a month were referred to house committees.

The sheriff has been looking into a queer spot back at Lindenwood cemetery. He blew up the earth and trees in the vicinity, but discovered nothing, although the place was marked as if something was hidden or some one buried there.

A Fatal Explosion.

WILKESBARRE, Pa. June 7.—Six miners were badly burned by an explosion of gas this morning in the Mineral Springs colliery. The injuries of two are considered fatal.

The Bluffton high school had thirty-four graduates.

THE MAYOR'S DECISION.

Reform has reached a little town in Dakota, the Mayor of which has the absolute power of removing any policeman, fireman or other member of the service. A popular policeman somehow incurred the Mayor's wrath, and was removed from office. Like some other reformers the Mayor was known to be more or less inexorable in his decrees. Finally the Chief of Police, knowing that the Mayor had acted rashly, and would be glad to retract his steps, got the popular policeman reinstated by diplomacy.

"Your Honor," he said when he made his next report, and asked for instructions, "Policeman Bumbleman, a very influential gentleman, arrested one of your personal friends for drunkenness, and has been removed by your order. Was he to be removed for one day or for two?"

"For one," was the curt answer.—St. Paul Press.

The Favorite Books of George III. We have heard a great deal lately about the best books. It may be interesting to give a list of the books which George III. kept for constant reading in what he called his closet library, and I believe that some of the volumes are still preserved at Windsor Castle. The selection is highly creditable:

The Bible, Plays of Shakespeare, Blackstone's "Commentaries," Burns' "Justice," Annual Register (25 vols.), Rapin's "History of England," (21 vols.) Addison's Miscellaneous Works, the Works of Sir William Temple, the Works of Jonathan Swift, Guvres des Destouches, Nichols' "Collection of Poems" (8 vols.), Dodsley's "Collection of Poems" (12 vols.), Johnson's "Poets," Boyer's "French and English Dictionary," Veltre's "Louis XIV. and Louis XV.," Millet's "Histoire de France," Johnson's "Dictionary," New "Whole Duty of Man."

This collection always accompanied the King when he went to stay at Weymouth and Cheltenham; so that the books were in regular use throughout the year.

The International Typographical Union.

Will Tackle the Proposition to Exclude Stereotyped Plates From all Fair Offices.

The Amalgamated Iron and Steel Workers Legislate on Important Measures.

THE PRINTERS.

The International Union is in Session.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., June 7.—The thirty-fourth annual session of the International Typographical Union began this morning. One hundred and eighteen delegates presented credentials. A resolution was adopted requesting the passage by congress of the house bill known as the Foran bill, restoring wages of employees of the government printing office in Washington, D. C., to the rates paid prior to the passage of the act of February 16, 1877, reducing same. The meeting then adjourned until to-morrow.

The interesting topic of the convention promises to be on the subject of stereotyped plates and a resolution will be offered providing that such plates shall not be used in union offices under any circumstances.

THE STEEL WORKERS.

The convention of the Amalgamated Association of Iron and Steel workers was taken up to-day entirely with committee work. It is stated that the committee will unanimously recommend to the association to decline the proposition to join the Knights of Labor. That the offer of Samuel Duff, Steubenville, Ohio, to donate forty acres of ground for the erection of a co-operative mill also be rejected. The wages committee it is said, has about decided to recommend the present scale, $5 per ton for puddling.

THE MARKETS.

New York, June 5.—Wheat, 4@40 lower. No. 2 red, June 87½. Corn, 4@41 higher, quiet, 33@43½. Oats, Steady, very quiet, 34@43.

CHICAGO MARKET.

CHICAGO, June 5.—Wheat closed at 77. Corn, steady at 35½. Oats, firmer at 27.

In forty years from now the Argentine Republic may speak of her eighty-sixers as California now talks of her forty-miners. A violent gold fever prevails along the Southern border, and the city of Buenos Ayres is all agog with the bustle of departing treasure-hunters and the competition of rival outfit-dealers. The Siglo, The Standard (English), and a few other papers publish semi-weekly bulletins from the "camp," and the excitement runs higher and higher, for by this time there seems really no doubt that the bonanza is something more than a "pan-hole." The new diggings are on the Rio Gallegos, in a part of Patagonia claimed by the Argentine Government, and it seems certain that the results of a day's work have risen from an average $3 to $18 per miner. Moreover, new placers are discovered every week, and there must by this time be several thousand tents in the field. According to the Standard, one party of five men and two half-breed boys panned out sixteen pounds of gold in one week. The Eldorado boom of '49 may repeat itself in all but the profits of the provision dealers. Buenos Ayres is the cheapest meat-market of the American continent, and every batch of gold-hunters is followed by a consignment of carne secca y habas—dried beef and beans.

A BORDEAUX journal describes the dinner usually provided for workmen in that city. A large plate of vegetable soup costs 2 cents; a large piece of bread, 2 cents; a large plate of red haricot beans, costs 2 cents; half a plate of roast veal (the quantity being ample for an ordinary man), costs 4 cents; a plate of rice, 1 cent, and half a bottle of vin ordinaire, cost 4 cents; so it will be seen a fair dinner was provided, with half a bottle of wine included, for 15 cents. What can be made a successful business in France, where almost every article of diet is taxed, can surely be made to pay here, where food and meat are cheaper.

TROTTER HORSES.

The year 1824 marks the day when 2,40 was considered a remarkable trotting record for a mile. Maud S., the present champion, came to the front in 1880 with 2:10, while her record is now 2:08. Sporting men claim that the horse will be bred which can go in a minute and a half, while others hold that Maud S.'s time cannot be beaten.

Not less surprising than this rapid reduction in the trotters' time is the speed with which Athlophoros has grown into public favor. As a single instance of its efficacy may be mentioned the case of Mr. W. D. Murphy, of No. 310 Yandes street, Indianapolis, Indiana, who tells this story:

"I first contracted rheumatism in the year, in which I served four years and six months. After returning from service the disease seemed to assume a periodical form. I would have at least two attacks every year, and between these attacks I would suffer all the time. Often I could not walk or get out of bed, and the disease would catch me in the legs, so that while standing I would feel as if I were about to fall. It was one afternoon that I took my first dose of Athlophoros, and then at night I took another. I slept soundly that night. The next morning when I awoke I had no pain. I took a few doses more, but in all used only about two-thirds of a bottle before my rheumatism was gone. That was over a year ago, and since then I have had only a slight twinge. So great is my confidence in Athlophoros that I have recommended it to many different people. Among them is a Mrs. Wright, a lady seventy years old, who was entirely rid of all her pain by the medicine after suffering from rheumatism for fifteen years. In every instance it gave entire satisfaction."

Mr. R. Forster, a dealer in furniture at No. 820 Main St., Terre Haute, Ind., who tells the following:

"I have used Athlophoros with the best of satisfaction. I had neuralgia for years, and used about every medicine for it without obtaining any relief until I began taking Athlophoros. I was told of the remedy by a friend who bought a bottle of it for me, and I took some that same night. The next day I was as free from pain as if I had never had neuralgia. I went out and spent several hours in a walk which the day before would have been misery to me. During the summer months I am never troubled with neuralgia, but if I should be again I would certainly use Athlophoros, of whose merits I am fully convinced. I have a bottle on hand, but have no use for it at present. I have recommended it to several persons, and have yet to learn of a single instance where it did not accomplish its mission of good work."

Miss Kate Warren, of Stockwell, Ind., who says that she has not been able to effect a complete cure in her case because of inability to obtain Athlophoros when she desired to use it, nevertheless gives this testimony to its merits:

"I have used Athlophoros and have been very much benefited by it. I heartily recommend it to all I meet who are suffering from that dreadful disease, rheumatism."

If you cannot get Athlophoros of your druggist, we will send it to you on receipt of regular price—one dollar per bottle. We prefer that you buy it from our druggist, but if he hasn't it, do not be persuaded to try something else, but order at once from us, as directed. ATHLOPHOROS CO., 112 Wall Street, New York.

TRACT distributors in New York City complain that thousands of tracts are being distributed throughout the tenement-house districts and along shore printed in imitation of the genuine religious ones, and bearing titles such as "Be Saved," "Salvation for All," and the like, which, after a page or two of religious argument, run off into eloquent patent-medicine advertisements.

Thirty-two years ago the father of Alexander Bailes died, and after the estate had been settled, as was supposed, some papers and family relics were locked in a chest and given to the care of the boy's grandmother. She died and the chest went to the mother. Bailes was married a while ago and went to housekeeping in Greenville, Mich., and his mother sent the chest to him. He opened it, and in the old family Bible found documents which make him heir to property worth $40,000.

WARDEN McCOMB, of the California State Prison, at Folsom, has been planning extensive improvements in the prison grounds, and has had the hearty co-operation of Harry, the convict gardener. At the height of the work Harry's term expired, and though he begged hard to stay, he was sent to San Francisco a free man. Within ten days a Deputy Sheriff brought Harry back. "I've come to stay this time, General," he shouted, gleefully; "they ain't smart enough to keep me away from the garden." He had pleaded guilty to thefts enough to get a very long sentence within his beloved prison walls.

HERE is a curious item about newspapers which some one has compiled: "The number of pounds of type used in the newspapers of the United States is put at 6,589,878. The newspapers in the five States of New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Illinois, and Iowa set half the number of ems set in the United States. A pound of type averages about 370 ems, and an average of 2,500 is left in the cases. The average composition per newspaper is 74,147 ems for dailies, and for weeklies 57,197. The total amount of type set for one issue of the daily newspapers of the country would make 2,785 duodecimo volumes, and all the papers in a year would represent as much type-work as would make 10,000 volumes equal to 'Appleton's Cyclopaedia.' A slip of the world would extend from the Atlantic to the Pacific. Eight thousand persons are employed."

DEER LAKE, in Nevada, lies on the north side of the Pyramid branch of the Truckee River and west of the upper portion of Pyramid Lake, from which it is only separated by a low hill or ridge of sand. It is circular in form and has neither inlet nor outlet. This small lake is a great resort for ducks, geese, swans, and other waterfowl when there is a heavy wind, and Pyramid Lake is made to boil like a pot. They then flock to this less-boisterous sheet of water by tens of thousands. On such occasions the Indians prepare for a grand duck drive. All who have guns and many who are armed only with bows and arrows form in a line on the crest of the sand ridge between the two lakes. A number of Indians then man a fleet of rafts, and, starting from the western shore of the small lake drive the ducks and other fowl from their resting place. The birds start for Pyramid Lake again, and, as they fly across the dividing ridge the men and boys lying in wait bring down hundreds of them with guns and other weapons. Even small boys, lying on their backs with their bows on their feet, pull their arrows with both hands, sending the missiles with great force and killing birds in large numbers.

THE engineers who made the survey of a new railroad at Niagara, which will run along the bank at the edge of the river, claim to have discovered some facts which will surprise scientists. When the survey was made in 1851 for the suspension bridge it was claimed from the surveys that the river was higher at the suspension bridge than at the foot of the falls, and this theory was accepted, it being claimed that "the immense pressure, from the falls carried the water up hill." The present survey, which gives the first levels ever taken through the water line, explodes the up-hill theory, and shows that from the foot of the inclined road to the cantilever bridge, two miles, the incline is six feet, and from the cantilever bridge to the whirlpool, a little less than a mile, 454 feet, thus giving the water the terrible force it attains on going through the whirlpool.

UNDISMAYED by the long and terrible list of Arctic disasters, and in spite of the general protest against any more expeditions into that region which followed the Greeley calamity, another explorer, Col. Gilder, proposes this summer to make another attempt to reach the pole. He proposes to go alone to the mouth of Hudson Bay, where he will recruit a party of natives with dogs and sledges, winter in the vicinity of Cape Sabine, and thence try to reach the Pole on sledges. He proposes to have with him only Esquimaux, who always live in the Arctic regions, and upon whom he can depend for transportation and subsistence, and as he is thoroughly acquainted with the country and the habits of the natives, and will have no white associates, he is confident of accomplishing his purpose. The consolations attaching to his scheme are that it will not throw away any of the people's money, as he does not propose to call upon the Government for help, and that when the final disaster comes the only white man involved will be the projector of the expedition, who deliberately takes his life in his hands with full knowledge of the fate which has never failed to overtake his predecessors, sooner or later.

Of the two thousand and odd personages in Orville, says a letter from that burg, there is one whose make-up has been augmented by an artificial addition that has placed him in a peculiar position—one that has never before been met with, and one that has knocked medical credulity all away. Some four years ago Rev. Richard P. Baughman went to bed with a vulcanized rubber plate holding four teeth (all incisors) in his mouth. During the night, while he was asleep, the plate became dislodged and slipped down his wind-pipe. All attempts to remove it were unsuccessful, and various physicians tackled the case to remove the foreign substance, which had been pushed into the esophagus and lodged there on the right side, where it is to-day. Rev. Baughman suffered indescribable pain in consequence, and from once a heavy weight of nearly two hundred pounds has fallen to the rather light weight of one hundred and thirty pounds. His speech betrays the presence of some foreign substance in his throat and his continual hawking is caused by the teeth, which have made him resemble a consumptive, yet a recent examination made by a medical expert in Chicago showed that his lungs were sound, and that his coughing was caused by the teeth. During the four years he has had the teeth in his esophagus he has not eaten any substantial food, such as bread, potatoes, meat, and like vegetables, being unable to swallow them, but has subsisted on raw beef chopped fine, soup, and stimulants. In drinking he is compelled to throw his head far back, as though gargling his throat, and allow the liquid to pass slowly down his throat. In his present condition he is wholly unable to pursue his calling. He is a man of 42 years and a veteran of the Forty-first Illinois Volunteers. He is a man of means, and offers $10,000 to the person who will remove the teeth without injuring him. If life is spared him he will go to the hospital at Paris next fall and have the teeth removed by the surgeon's knife.

"That tired feeling" from which you suffer so much, particularly in the morning is entirely thrown off by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

It is reported in Toledo, Ohio, that Frank Hurd has been offered $25,000 a year to act as counsel for John W. Mackay, the millionaire miner.

"Her face so fair, as flesh it seemed not, But heavenly portrait of bright angel's hue. Clear as the sky, without a blame or blot, Through goodly mixture of complexion due. And in her cheeks the vermillion red did show."

This is the poet's description of a woman whose physical system was in a perfectly sound and healthy state, with every function acting properly, and is the enviable condition of its fair patrons produced by Dr. Pierce's "Favorite Prescription." Any druggist.

The New York Freeman proposes Gen. Walter B. Gresham, of Indiana, for president, and ex-Gov. J. D. Long, of Massachusetts, for vice president in 1888.

LUCKY MEN WHO GET RICH.
"Some men do have luck in this world, for a fact," said a seedy-looking individual who had taken a fifteen-cent lunch on State street, near Harrison, and who now stood in front of the Palmer House manipulating his tooth-pick, "but I ain't one of them."

"In my time I have invested many a good thousand dollars in mining stocks and never made a hit yet. A hit was what I needed to make about as bad as anybody ever needed it, but I couldn't make one."

"Now just look at Marshall Field. He hasn't been suffering for a dollar for a good while. Yet a few years ago, in settling with a country merchant, he was induced to take $300 worth of stock in the Chrysolite mine."

"He didn't want to take the stock and offered to make a big discount for cash, but the country merchant was hard up and so the dicker was made."

"Field took the stock, put it away in his safe, and in seven years has drawn $30,000 in dividends."

"I've heard, too, though I don't know how true it is, that about all the money, he ever invested in mining property was the profits from this first venture."

"He has almost invariably been lucky, and has probably made more money out of silver mines on a smaller investment than any other man in Chicago. A rich man for luck every time."

—Chicago Herald.

YALE'S NEW PRESIDENT.

Professor Timothy Dwight, who succeeded Noah Porter.

Professor Timothy Dwight, who was recently elected to succeed Noah Porter as president of Yale, is the grandson and namesake of a president of Yale, himself a graduate and successively a tutor and professor of the college. Thus he is identified by inheritance and by long service with its history, its traditions, its growth, aims, weaknesses and needs. He has been associated with most of the successful endeavors to enrich the equipment and the treasury of the institution, and has a perfect understanding of its financial requirements.

TIMOTHY DWIGHT. Dr. Dwight is 58 years old, and is the son of James Dwight, who married Susan Breen, accumulated a fortune in business and sent his son to Yale with the class that was graduated in 1849. Entering the theological school in 1851 he was licensed to preach in 1855, and in 1856 he went to Europe and continued his studies at the universities of Bonn and Berlin. Returning to the United States in 1858 he was appointed Buckingham professor of sacred literature in the Yale theological department. In 1861 he was ordained to the ministry, and in 1869 he received the degree of D. D. from the Chicago theological seminary. He was a member of the committee for the revision of the English version of the Bible in 1873 and 1874, and since 1866 he has been associate editor of The New Englander, to which he has contributed a paper in 1871 on "The True Ideal of an American University for the future of Yale College."

Professor Dwight is a believer in the elective system, and is expected to be liberal in his ideas of a university course. He is popular among the students, and is favorably known as a speaker, being a man much sought after at banquets. His means being ample, his salary as a professor has been given regularly to the theological school.

In 1866 Professor Dwight married Jane W. Skinner, of New Haven. Their two children are Helen Root, born in 1868, and Winthrop Edwards, born in 1872.

CAREER OF A COUNTRY BOY.

What Energy, Industry and Integrity Can Accomplish in Our Day.

One of the very best examples of the possibilities within the reach of a young man is found in the brief life of a country boy, whose career is attracting the admiration of those among whom he has risen. It proves that a man of integrity can attain a fortune through honest hard work. Of this man Harper's Weekly says: Mr. Maurice Bennett Flynn will not be 40 years of age until two years from Nov. 3 next. He certainly inherited no fortune, being one of six children born to Patrick and Mary Flynn in the little village of Malden, Columbia county, in this state, and when, at the age of 17, he arrived in New York city his cash capital consisted of $37. These facts make the statement that his fortune is estimated at from $1,000,000 to $1,500,000 one of considerable interest. With the exception of a "year's schooling" at a Catholic school in Troy, such education as young Flynn had at the time of his arrival in New York had been picked up by his own unaided efforts.

MAURICE B. FLYNN. Upon his arrival in New York he took the first employment he could find, which proved to be in a small grocery in Williamsburg. He subsequently became "timekeeper" at the Novelty Iron works, and then learning that a firm of iron manufacturers were in need of a book keeper, he boldly applied for the situation, and although he knew scarcely anything of the requirements of the position, succeeded in obtaining and holding the place at a salary of $8 a week. Within a very short time his salary had been nearly doubled. His executive ability was speedily recognized, and when, in 1867, the junior member of the firm died, the sole management of the details of the business was entrusted to young Flynn. Two years later he was given a small interest in the firm, and on May 1, 1870, was admitted to the firm as an equal partner.

During all these years he had been assiduous in his studies. He lived in Brooklyn, but regularly for several years attended the night school at Cooper Union, and being quick to learn, rapidly acquired a fair knowledge of the French, German and Spanish languages, which he has since mastered, besides devoting himself to the study of mechanical drawing and elocution. In 1878, Mr. Flynn, three days before election, declared himself to be a candidate for the assembly on the Democratic side of politics and was elected to represent the Thirtieth and Fourteenth wards of Brooklyn, defeating the regular Democratic nominee by a large plurality. At the conclusion of his term he was re-elected. It cannot be seen that Mr. Flynn's entrance into politics has affected his business in any way. It is at least not neglected. He has proved himself to be a man of such remarkable executive ability that he can attend to many and varied interests with unusual ease. He is now looked upon as one of the leading contractors of New York. On a recent trip abroad, Mr. Flynn carried among other letters of introduction one from President Cleveland to President Grevy, of France. Three years ago Mr. Flynn married the daughter of Treasurer Moss, of Wallack's theatre. If his health is spared, his future career will be worth watching.

A MERCILESS FELLOW.

How an Excellent Young Man Was Taken to Prison.

Young Silas Goodman received an invitation to attend a character ball. He was at a perplexing loss as to what character to assume. He wanted to startle the people with the bold originality of his conception; so, after several days of profound thought, after he had sunk a shaft deep down into the mine of meditation, he decided to go as a convict. The idea tickled him, and, jostled by his own laughter, he tottered across the room and leaned on a corner of the mantelpiece. He spoke to a friend concerning the idea. The friend, a graceless fellow known as Hayfoot, exclaimed:

"My dear Goodman, you are a genius. It is a mystery to me how you can be so original. As a convict, why, it's the very thing. Say, I have a friend who is a clerk in the penitentiary. I'll ask him to get you a new suit of convict clothes."

"Good," exclaimed Silas, "Don't forget it."

"Oh, I won't. I'll go out and see him this evening."

In Hayfoot's evil mind there lurked a dark design. Hayfoot and Goodman, though friends, cast eyes of affection upon the same young lady.

"I think I can paralyze the young fraud," Hayfoot mused.

The night was beautiful. The "Characters" danced joyously in the grand residence of Gen. Soddiker. Young Silas, as the convict, had created a sensation. His fair partner said that the stripes became him.

Hayfoot and a deputy sheriff stood on a street corner. "I am sure," said Hayfoot, "that I saw an escaped convict go into the general's house. Wait until your friend comes with the wagon and then decoy the gentleman out. I understand that he is dangerously insane and he fancies himself to be a young fellow named Silas Goodman. The people in the house have heard of Goodman, and are doubtless imposed upon by this desperate crank. Here comes the wagon."

Young Goodman, toying with a rose, was talking to Miss Gaddledy, when someone, attracting his attention, said: "A gentleman out at the front gate desires to see you immediately on very important business."

Goodman went out to the gate. Some one from behind threw a coffee sack over the young man's head, and the deputy sheriff, with a quick movement, fastened a pair of handcuffs on Goodman's hands. Goodman yelled as loud as he could. The bass violin replied with a loud grunt of sarcasm, the Italian harp twanged in derision, and the fiddle screamed in contempt, and on went the dance. Goodman was placed in the wagon and was rapidly driven away. When his captors took him into a cell they removed the coffee sack.

"What in thunder does this mean?" Goodman exclaimed.

"Be quiet," the officer replied, "or we'll gag you."

"Where am I?"

"In the penitentiary, where you belong."

"Penitentiary! I am not a convict. I am Silas Goodman, book-keeper for—"

"Yes, that's all right, Silas. Quiet yourself down and you will doubtless be all right by morning."

Hayfoot entered. Silas uttered an exclamation of delight. "Hayfoot, thank heaven you are here. See what these wretches have done. Tell them—"

"I don't know you," Hayfoot coldly replied. "I only know that you are an escaped convict and that these men have done their duty."

"Come, Hayfoot, this devilish joke has gone far enough."

"I must say you are a very peculiar man," Hayfoot rejoined. "My friend Jackson, who is one of the main men here, will see that your wants are supplied. Good-night."

Goodman spent a terrible night. Early the next morning he was taken from his cell. He attempted to explain, but the superintendent replied:

"You may be a trifle crazy, but I guess you are able to work. Bring him down to the brick yard, boys."

"Oh, Lord!" groaned Goodman. He pleaded, but to no purpose. He was hurried along with a gang of men and was compelled to work. Once he stopped for a moment. A leather strap, athletically handled, was stretched across him. While he was at work almost too tired to move, he looked up just in time to see the girl whom he loved and Hayfoot driving past.

Goodman was released the next day. He borrowed a gun and started out to look for Hayfoot, but soon learned that the merciless fellow and the young lady had gone away on a bridal tour.

—Arkansas Traveler.

Mrs. Gladstone is described by Americans who have met her as a plain-looking woman, although she is of course possessed of much natural refinement. Her features, like those of so many English matrons, are heavy, and almost common, and, as she possesses not the least tact of softening her aggressive outlines by dress, she shows to the worst possible advantage. She is even worse dressed than most of her countrywomen, but is, with all these peculiarities of taste and style, a most excellent woman and one who is well beloved.

A TROUBLESOME "SIMON."

A Boston lady who has been a resident of Berlin for several years, tells a good story of a German countess who bears a name which has made all Europe tremble in its boots many a time and oft. This personage holds a little court in Berlin, where she is always surrounded by the cream of the aristocracy, and her hospitality is eagerly sought by strangers who belong to the lion-hunting order of society. Like most of the nobility, she is extremely obstinate and self-opinionated, but, like some other mortals of less exalted rank, she has a slight physical weakness which is manifested by a pearly drop at the extremity of her aristocratic nose. As Madame la comtesse insists on giving dinner parties and sitting at the head of her table, this unconscious blench becomes sometimes troublesome, and she has wisely trained an old family servant to warn her of its arrival. When the drop appears, this faithful person cries out: "Madame! Simon is at the door."

"Simon" is at once suppressed. One night, however, the countess was deeply engaged in conversation with a prince, and paid no heed to the announcement that "Simon was at the door." Twice, thrice the anxious servant called out the well-known formula, and then suddenly, with despair in his voice, he cried: "Madame! Simon is in the soup!"—Boston Herald.

BILIOUSNESS.

Is very prevalent at this season, the symptoms being bitter taste, offensive breath, coated tongue, sick headache, drowsiness, dizziness, loss of appetite. If this condition is allowed to continue, serious consequences may follow. By promptly taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, a fever may be avoided or premature death prevented. It is a positive cure for biliousness. Sold by all druggists.

The Rev. Sam Jones opens next Monday at the new hall in Indianapolis. Both of the evangelists, Jones and Small will be present. The papers and preachers of that city do not take kindly to their peculiar methods, and it will be interesting to note the reception they receive when they get there.

In the Hop Plasters the virtues of fresh hops are combined with strengthening and stimulating balsams, and its cures of weak back, pain in the side, rheumatism, neuralgia or pain in the chest are simply marvelous, it being more efficacious and thorough than any liniment or liquid remedies. You'll say so after using.

Ex-Mayor James L. Mitchell, of Indianapolis, was nominated by the democrats for prosecuting attorney for Marion and Hendricks counties.

ANSON HOUGH, of Blackberry, Ill., says he owes his life to Gilmore's Magnetic Elixir. Try it.

MR. A. HIGGINS, of Wyoming, N. Y., says he had the piles for nearly 40 years, and was cured by using Gilmore's Elix specific.

WHY WILL YOU SUFFER from ague and malaria when Gilmore's Aromatic Wine will cure you.

GILMORE'S NEURALGIA CURE is a positive cure for neuralgia in the face, side and stomach.

JOHN H. YATES, of Batavia, N. Y., says:

"I cheerfully commend Your AROMATIC WINE. It did new life and vigor send through this weak frame of mine. It did for all my stomach ills. More than the doctor and his pills."

Beware of Scrofula

Scrofula is probably more general than any other disease. It is insidious in character, and manifests itself in running sores, pustular eruptions, boils, swellings, enlarged joints, abscesses, sore eyes, etc. Hood's Sarsaparilla expels all trace of scrofula from the blood, leaving it pure, enriched, and healthy.

"I was severely afflicted with scrofula, and for over a year had two running sores on my neck. Took five bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and consider myself cured." C. E. LOVEJOY, Lowell, Mass.

C. A. Arnold, Arnold, Me., had scrofulous sores for seven years, spring and fall. Hood's Sarsaparilla cured him.

Salt Rheum

William Spies, Elyria, O., suffered greatly from erysipelas and salt rheum, caused by handling tobacco. At times his hands would crack open and bleed. He tried various preparations without aid; finally took Hood's Sarsaparilla, and now says: "I am entirely well." "My son had salt rheum on his hands and on the calves of his legs. He took Hood's Sarsaparilla and is entirely cured." J. B. STANTON, Mt. Vernon, Ohio.

THE MISSING $10,000.

The Stolen Package Held a Hamilton Bank Collection Check and Remittance Papers.

The bank, express and police officers are searching for the $10,000 package, stolen while en route to the Van Wert bank. At Cincinnati and Van Wert nothing else is talked of, and the remittance package was examined by all interested parties at Cincinnati, Saturday.

In addition to the ten thousand dollars stolen the package also contained a check for collection on the Hamilton National bank of Fort Wayne, a remittance slip and a letter of advice to the Van Wert National. These papers are also missing. The roll was re-examined this morning. The way bill and receipts show that it was carried by the Hamilton and Dayton from Cincinnati to Dayton, by the Dayton and Union from Dayton to Greenville, by the Cincinnati, Jackson and Michigan from Greenville to Van Wert, and was delayed one day.

The package passed through Indiana and was there marked late. This delay no doubt gave the thief time and opportunity to do his work. The wrapper was carefully opened at one end, and the money and papers extracted. Between two pieces of pasteboard is packed a slip of brown paper, in which the bank had wrapped the bills before putting on the outside inclosure. A Bee Line bill of an excursion to Cincinnati, pieces of brown paper and a slip marked "United States Express," No. 425. This discovery is considered good evidence that the theft was committed in some express company or car. The package was carefully tied and slipped into the original wrapper, but did not fill the space occupied by the money. The vacuum was, however, neatly stuffed with cotton, restoring the former rich, plump appearance and soft, exquisite feeling imparted when the sense of touch is brought in contact with $10,000 in bank bills. It is shown that in nineteen minutes after the express train arrived at Van Wert the package was delivered, receipted for and opened.

A Terrible Tennessee Fire at Chicago.

Eight Persons are Smothered and Burned to Death in the Ruins of the Hotel.

The Handsome Grand Opera House Block is Burned Down at Louisville.

BIG FIRES.

Eight Persons Smothered in a Burning Building.

CHICAGO, June 7.—Eight persons were smothered and burned to death in the frame houses at 731 and 733 South Canal street at 4 o'clock this morning. The fire broke out in the cellar of 733 and quickly burned through the first floor, which is on a level with the ground. The next floor was soon a blaze and the fire spread through the wooded walls of the basement and No. 731 was soon wrapped in flames. Both houses were filled with smoke before any of the occupants were aroused. Many of the sleepers were doubtless smothered in their beds. It is believed the fire was the work of an incendiary.

A BIG FIRE AT LOUISVILLE.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., June 7.—At 3:50 this morning a fire was discovered in the new Grand Theatre behind the stage. All of the interior of the theatre, the rear of the building occupied by the Kentucky School of Medicine, the restaurant, on Grand street, the rear of Dennison's fruit store and the barber shop on Jefferson street were burned out and serious damage was done to other stores on both Green and Jefferson streets. The block is valued at $100,000 and is a complete loss. The Green street front, which was occupied by the Medical College, being all that remains standing.

Shortly after 5 a. m. the fire was got under control. The buildings including the theatre, were all in the Davis block, which was almost entirely destroyed. The loss on the building is $40,000; insured. The loss on Grand Theatre furnishing $18,000; insured for $4,500. Kentucky School of Medicine, $5,000; insured. Loss on stock to the other occupants, $6,000; fully insured. The new Grand Theatre had just been closed for the season, and will be rebuilt at once.

Convicts Converted.

CHICAGO, June 7.—Archbishop Feehan yesterday visited the penitentiary at Joliet and confirmed 117 convicts, who for five months have been instructed by Brother Adjutor. Sacred music was furnished by the convict choir and orchestra. Mass was celebrated by Father Francis. One of those who were confirmed is serving his fifth term.

Death of a Prominent Preacher.

New York, June 7.—Rev. Dr. Pharellus Church died in Tarrytown, N. Y. Saturday. He was one of the most prominent Baptist clergymen in the country. He was born in 1801, and was one of the proprietors of the Examiner, the leading paper of his denomination.

He Did Not Talk.

Sr. Louis, Mo., June 7.—Late last night William Roberts, a day laborer, was shot and fatally wounded by Eugene Shangle, a brakeman on the Iron Mountain railroad. Shangle made a statement that he heard some one in his room and receiving no reply to his inquiry who was there, fired.

Richmond has a well but no gas or oil. The well reached about the depth of 1,400 feet Saturday morning and then struck Blue Lick water, below which no gas can be found. Digging was stopped at once and a meeting of the stockholders was called for this afternoon to decide upon a new place to dig a well. The contractor has offered to dig another well to the depth of 1,000 feet at a reduced rate. The stockholders have not yet lost confidence, but will dig again.

CAUGHT A THIEF.

Officer Mike Singleton and the Marshals Cage Wm. Hitchcock.

The other evening the cigar and confectionary store of young Fry and the shoe store of one Shenlein, in Nebraska, the suburb across the river, were robbed of cigars, candies, cakes, a pair of boots and two pairs of shoes.

Officer Mike Singleton fastened the crime on to Wm. Hitchcock and had for him. His mother, Mrs. Grigsby, lives west of the city and her house was shadowed. Mr. Singleton went out from his beat this morning and later Ma shall Meyer and Jesse Patton joined him. They got on trail and Singleton found his man asleep in the orchard. He was shackled, and the boots, cigars, cakes and confectionery were found in his room. He had a soft satchel and his mother said he brought it in last Wednesday concealing a broad cloth suit and a pair of low shoes. He had the clothes on and looked like a minister. He certainly stole these garments.

Hitchcock has served a term in the pen for stealing clothes from his brother-in-law, Duck Leiber. He was held for trial in the sum of $500 and will go up again for a round term.

HEED IT, MY BOY.

Rob Smith's old Partner Writes a Letter to His Son.

"Major H. C. Russell, the gambler who committed suicide last Sunday, had evidently seen the error of his ways," says the Indianapolis News, "for a few days previous to his death he wrote a long, affectionate letter to his son in Chicago, in which he said: 'I am rejoiced to hear that you are getting along so well. Now, do not go around gambling houses, keep out of liquor shops and have nothing to do with gamblers, and you will never regret it. Select your associates from industrious, respectable boys, and spend your leisure moments in instructing yourself by reading histories and works of science. You have your own way to make through the world, and it is only by perseverance and industry that you can hope to succeed. You have talent enough, and I hope experience sufficient, to avoid all disolute characters, who can only lead you to ruin. You know that I speak from a long and sad experience, and you can have no better guide, than to take my own unhappy life, and avoid thorns into which I have fallen. I only live in hope that an opportunity may be afforded me to make some amends for the errors of the past.'"

A GREAT CATCH.

Sheriff Nelson Runs Down B. C. Daniel, a Crook, in an all Night Ride.

B. C. Daniel came to the city some days ago and approached T. J. Fleming, who owns the old Kiser store. He proposed to purchase the place and all week they were invoicing. Saturday night Daniel fled with Fleming's money and Sheriff Nelson started in pursuit. He followed him to Arcola and then to Columbia City where he put hands on his man and lodged him in jail this afternoon.

Daniel is a slick looking fellow and worked his game well. He said he came from Buffalo, N. Y., and made an appointment to meet Mr. Fleming at the store last night. Mr. Fleming did not see his man, but after going to his desk missed his bank roll of over $100 and at once suspected Daniel. The fellow managed to get a false key and did his work as was his purpose, when the most money was there.

Mr. Fleming now believes the fellow's sole scheme was robbery and gives Sheriff Nelson great credit for the catch, like which nothing is recorded here.

CHOICE BITS.

The News That is Cutted for the "Sentinel" Readers.

Seven pupils, five of them females, graduated from the Wabash high school.

The Frankfort high school turned out three sweet girl graduates and four boys, one colored.

Only three students graduated from the Newcaste high school, one male and two females.

Will R. Moffat sues the town of Huntington for breaking his leg on a defective sidewalk. His demand is for $3,000.

The south wall of Chamberlain's new block, at Elkhart, Ind., fell out but no person was injured. The damage is heavy.

The colored people of Lafayette are rehearsing "Romeo and Juliet," which they will put on the stage in a couple of weeks. Have mercy on them.

The Portland Star publishes this democratic ticket: "For state senator—Adams, Jay and Blackford, Silas W. Hale; for representative—Jay, Adams and Blackford, Elisha Pierce; for representative—Jay and Adams, Samuel S. Selvey; for prosecutor—Jay and Adams, Oscar H. Adair."

Frank Lewis has been chosen to represent the Lafayette bicyclists in the tour of Indiana, and leaves on his wheel July 6 for Nashville, Ind., where he will join the other seventy-five representatives and go with them on their trip through the state. The company will reach Lafayette about July 12. The trip entire will cover a distance of 800 miles.

The impression is gaining ground at Wabash that Jesse W. Starr, the contractor, who has secured the contract for the construction of a system of water works in that city, will be unable to carry out the terms of the ordinance. The city council has notified Starr, who is at his home in Philadelphia, that unless he visits the city or resumes work by June 14 the franchise will be revoked.

Chicago detectives captured in a State street store a prepossessing woman who attempted, to conceal a Jersey on her person. In her room at a leading hotel was found over $200 worth of silks and jewelry, evidently stolen since her arrival last Wednesday evening. She finally gave her name as Mrs. Henry Lennox, of Valparaiso, Ind. Her husband, who is a prominent merchant and Knight Templar, was telegraphed for.

The President Going on a Yacht Cruise in August.

CHICAGO, June 7.—A Washington special says: "Within the last few days the president has accepted an invitation from W. S. Hopkins, of Oakland, on the St. Clair river, near Detroit, to spend the month of August as his guest at that place and to cruise upon the lakes upon the steam yacht 'Sigma.' About August 1, the yacht will meet the president at Buffalo, and after cruising awhile, going as far as the straits of Mackinaw, and perhaps Duluth, the president will join Mr. Hopkins at his cottage at Oakland. Although the president has lived at Buffalo all his life, he has never been up the lakes, and he is very desirous of making the journey."

ALL OUT FISHING.

DEER PARK, June 7.—Despite somewhat threatening clouds, the president and Colonel Lamont started about nine o'clock for a trouting expedition. Their destination was one of the reserves of Mr. G. W. Delawder, the fish commissioner of Maryland, situated on Deer Creek, six miles northwest of this place. Mr. Delawder expected to join them there. Mrs. Cleveland and Mrs. Lamont remained at the cottage, but expected to go fishing in an adjacent stream this afternoon, in company with two little sons of Mr. H. G. Davis. The weather is hot and sultry and a rain storm seems imminent.

The presidential party at Deer Park was yesterday increased by the arrival of Colonel and Mrs. Lamont. They attended evening service in the Garrett church at Oakland, where the daughter of a farmer was baptized Frances in honor of the president's bride. It has been decided that immediately after the adjournment of congress President and Mrs. Cleveland will make a tour of the Adirondack and White mountains, for which railway officials are already arranging details.

FOREIGN BUDGET.

Political Excitement in London—A Riot Over Garibaldi.

LONDON, June 7.—The political excitement throughout England, and particularly in London, is very great. Politicians of all parties are preparing for the general election with much more vigor than has heretofore been witnessed. A large number of Tory aspirants for seats in the house of commons are retiring in favor of the liberal unionist candidates in districts where the joint poll of the conservative vote with that of the anti-Gladstone whigs will probably secure the election of a unionist.

The mayor of Cork was offered a knighthood at the reception given by Lord Aberdeen, in that city, but he refused the honor.

A dispatch from London, yesterday, states that "eight liberals still hesitate about supporting the home rule bill. If they vote with the opposition the bill will be lost. It is regarded as possible that the vote may result in a tie, in which event Speaker Peel will give the deciding vote." The bill will be voted on to-night.

An Orange-Catholic riot took place at Belfast yesterday during the funeral of Curran. The Orangemen pulled stones at the procession, and the Catholics, in retaliation, made an assault on the Orangemen and drove them away. One man was stabbed and several were out in the head.

If the government is defeated on the home rule bill to-night it is understood the house of commons will be adjourned until Thursday next, and that the cabinet will be summoned to meet at noon to-morrow to decide upon the advisability of counselling the queen to dissolve parliament. Mr. Gladstone refused to include Scotland and Wales in the Irish home rule bill.

Rome, June 7.—During the celebration of the anniversary of General Garibaldi's death, at Padua, an anti-Austrian demonstration resulted in a riot and a conflict with the police, in which several persons were wounded. Fifty-eight of the rioters were arrested.

VIENNA, June 7.—The Reichsrath is debating the first of a series of laws against socialists, providing for their trial without a jury.

THE NATION.

How its Affairs Go On in Congress. WASHINGTON, June 7.—In the Senate the oleomargarine bill was referred to committee on agriculture.

Senator Kenau has formally accepted the chairmanship of the democratic congressional committee.

Mr. Kelly, of Pennsylvania, arraigned Mr. Wheeler, of Alabama, for working a speech of Edwin N. Stanton into the Record under pension privileges. Wheeler was not present and Mr. Kelly will refer to the matter again to-morrow forenoon.

Mr. Crisp, of Georgia, apologized to the distinguished member from Indiana, Mr. Holman, for harsh words used toward him Saturday. Mr. Holman accepted the kind words.

The resolutions sympathizing with Gladstone, and a bill giving Mrs. Darwin Ward $100 a month were referred to house committees.

The sheriff has been looking into a queer spot back at Lindenwood cemetery. He blew up the earth and trees in the vicinity, but discovered nothing, although the place was marked as if something was hidden or some one buried there.

A Fatal Explosion.

WILKESBARRE, Pa. June 7.—Six miners were badly burned by an explosion of gas this morning in the Mineral Springs colliery. The injuries of two are considered fatal.

The Bluffton high school had thirty-four graduates.

THE MAYOR'S DECISION.

Reform has reached a little town in Dakota, the Mayor of which has the absolute power of removing any policeman, fireman or other member of the service. A popular policeman somewhat incurred the Mayor's wrath, and was removed from office. Like some other reformers the Mayor was known to be more or less inexorable in his decrees. Finally the Chief of Police, knowing that the Mayor had acted rashly, and would be glad to retract his steps, got the popular policeman reinstated by diplomacy.

"Your Honor," he said when he made his next report, and asked for instructions, "Policeman Bumbleman, a very influential gentleman, arrested one of your personal friends for drunkenness, and has been removed by your order. Was he to be removed for one day or for two?"

"For one," was the curt answer.—St. Paul Press.

The Favorite Books of George III.

We have heard of great deal lately about the best books. It may be interesting to give a list of the books which George III. kept for constant reading in what he called his closet library, and I believe that some of the volumes are still preserved at Windsor Castle. The selection is highly creditable:

The Bible, Plays of Shakespeare, Blackstone's "Commentaries," Burns' "Justice," Annual Register (25 vols.), Rapin's "History of England," (21 vols.), Addison's Miscellaneous Works, the Works of Sir William Temple, the Works of Jonathan Swift, Bayle's Dictionnaire, Nichols' "Collection of Poems," (8 vols.), Dodsley's "Collection of Poems" (12 vols.), Johnson's "Poets," Boyer's "French and English Dictionary," Voltaire's "Louis XIV. and Louis XV.," Millet's "Histoire de France," Johnson's "Dictionary," New "Whole Duty of Man."

This collection always accompanied the King when he went to stay at Weymouth and Cheltenham; so that the books were in regular use throughout a boy's career—a bed on which industry languishes.

The International Typographical Union.

Will Tackle the Proposition to Exclude Stereotyped Plates From all Fair Offices.

The Amalgamated Iron and Steel Workers Legislate on Important Measures.

THE PRINTERS.

The International Union is in Session.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., June 7.—The thirty-fourth annual session of the International Typographical Union began this morning. One hundred and eighteen delegates presented credentials. A resolution was adopted requesting the passage by congress of the house bill known as the Foran bill, restoring wages of employees of the government printing office in Washington, D. C., to the rates paid prior to the passage the act of February 16, 1877, reducing same. The meeting then adjourned until to-morrow.

The interesting topic of the convention promises to be on the subject of stereotyped plates and a resolution will be offered providing that such plates shall not be used in union offices under any circumstances.

THE STEEL WORKERS.

The convention of the Amalgamated Association of Iron and Steel workers was taken up to-day entirely with committee work. It is stated that the committee will unanimously recommend to the association to decline the proposition to join the Knights of Labor. That the offer of Samuel Duff, Steubenville, Ohio, to donate forty acres of ground for the erection of a co-operative mill also be rejected. The wages committee is said, has about decided to recommend the present scale, $5 per ton for puddling.

New York, June 5.—Wheat, @10 lower. No. 2 red, June 87½. Corn, @12 higher, quiet, 88@43½. Oats, Steady, very quiet, 34@42½.

CHICAGO MARKET.

CHICAGO, June 5.—Wheat closed at 77. Corn, steady at 35½. Oats, firmer at 27.

In forty years from now the Argentine Republic may speak of her eighty-sixers as California now talks of her forty-niners. A violent gold fever prevails along the Southern border, and the city of Buenos Ayres is all agog with the bustle of departing treasure-hunters and the competition of rival outfit-dealers. The Siglo, The Standard (English), and a few other papers publish semi-weekly bulletins from the "camp," and the excitement runs higher and higher, for by this time there seems really no doubt that the bonanza is something more than a "pan-hole." The new diggings are on the Rio Gallegos, in a part of Patagonia claimed by the Argentine Government, and it seems certain that the results of a day's work have risen from an average $4 to $18 per miner. Moreover, new placers are discovered every week, and there must by this time be several thousand tents in the field. According to the Standard, one party of five men and two half-breed boys panned out sixteen pounds of gold in one week. The Eldorado boom of '49 may repeat itself in all but the profits of the provision dealers. Buenos Ayres is the cheapest meat-market of the American continent, and every batch of gold-hunters is followed by a consignment of carne secca y habas—dried beef and beans.

A BONAVENTURE journal describes the dinner usually provided for workmen in that city. A large plate of vegetable soup costs 2 cents; a large piece of bread, 2 cents; a large plate of red haricot beans, costs 2 cents; half a plate of roast veal (the quantity being ample for an ordinary man), costs 4 cents; a plate of rice, 1 cent, and half a bottle of vin ordinaire, cost 4 cents; so it will be seen a fair dinner was provided, with half a bottle of wine included, for 15 cents. What can be made a successful business in France, where almost every article of diet is taxed, can surely be made to pay here, where food and meat are cheaper.

The year 1824 marks the day when 2.40 was considered a remarkable trotting record for a mile. Maud S., the present champion, came to the front in 1880 with 2.10, while her record is now 2.08. Sporting men claim that the horse will yet be bred which can go a mile in two minutes, while others hold that Maud S.'s time cannot be beaten.

Not less surprising than this rapid reduction in the trotters' time is the speed with which Athliophoros has grown into public favor. As a single instance of its efficacy may be mentioned the case of Mr. W. D. Murphy, of No. 310 Yandess street, Indianapolis, Indiana, who tells this story:

"I first contracted rheumatism in the year, in which I served four years and six months. After returning from service the disease seemed to assume a periodical form. I would have at least two attacks every year, and between these attacks I would suffer all the time. Often I could not walk or get out of bed, and the disease would catch me in the legs, so that while standing I would feel as if I were about to fall. It was one afternoon that I took my first dose of Athliophoros, and then at night I took another. I slept soundly that night. The next morning when I awoke I had no pain. I took a few doses more, but in all used only about two-thirds of a bottle before my rheumatism was gone. That was over a year ago, and since then I have had only a slight twinge. So great is my confidence in Athliophoros that I have recommended it to many different people. Among them is a Mrs. Wright, a lady seventy years old, who was entirely rid of all her pain by the medicine after suffering from rheumatism for fifteen years. In every instance it gave entire satisfaction."

Mr. R. Foster, a dealer in furniture at No. 320 Main St., Terre Haute, Ind., who tells the following:

"I have used Athliophoros with the very best satisfaction. I had neuralgia for years, and used about every medicine for it without obtaining any relief until I began taking Athliophoros. I was told of the remedy by a friend who bought a bottle of it for me, and I took some that same night. The next day I was as free from pain as if I had never had neuralgia. I went out and spent several hours in a walk which the day before would have been misery to me. During the summer months I am never troubled with neuralgia, but if I should be again I would certainly use Athliophoros, of whose merits I am fully convinced. I have a bottle on hand, but have no use for it at present. I have recommended it to several persons, and have yet to learn of a single instance where it did not accomplish its mission of good work."

Miss Kate Warren, of Stockwell, Ind., who says that she has not been able to effect a complete cure in her case because of inability to obtain Athliophoros when she desired to use it, nevertheless gives this testimony to its merits:

"I have used Athliophoros and have been very much benefited by it. I heartily recommend it to all I meet who are suffering from that dreadful disease, rheumatism."

If you cannot get Athliophoros of your druggist, we will send it express paid, on receipt of regular price—one dollar per bottle. We prefer that you buy it from your druggist, but if he hasn't it, do not be persuaded to try something else, but order at once from us, as directed. Athliophoros Co., 112 Wall Street, New York.

OFFICIAL PAPER COUNTY AND CITY.

MONDAY, JUNE 7, 1886.

DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

For Congress, 12th District,
HON. ROBERT LOWRY, of Allen.

A FISHERMAN at Stanford, Ky., ties short fishing lines with baited hooks to the feet of his geese and drives them into the water. When fish bite at the hooks the geese become frightened and swim to the bank. He catches large quantities of fish in this manner.

ANDREW CARNEGIE is a refreshing figure among American millionaires. He generously donated to the city of Pittsburgh the sum of half a million to found a public library, provided the city would guarantee $15,000 annually for its maintenance, which the "father" concluded they could not afford to do.

"BROT WIDEMOUTH! I hear dere's been a fearful epydermis goin' on in yo' congregation." "How's that, Breer Yawp?" "W'y, 'eordin' ter de noise I hear dere last revivin' night I jedged yo' was all bruk out wid de yeller fever." "Oh, dat hain't nuffin," Breer Yawp, 'casse ober in de 'Pistepal Chub'dey has de colic ebery Sunday. An' dey ketches it fom de pra'r book, longer dat."—Yonkers Gazette.

TRACT distributors in New York City complain that thousands of tracts are being distributed throughout the tenement-house districts and along shore printed in imitation of the genuine religious ones, and bearing titles such as "Be Saved," "Salvation for All," and the like, which, after a page or two of religious argument, run off into eloquent patent-medicine advertisements.

Thirty-two years ago the father of Alexander Bailes died, and after the estate had been settled, as was supposed, some papers and family relics were looked in a chest and given to the care of the boy's grandmother. She died and the chest went to the mother. Bailes was married a while ago and went to housekeeping in Greenville. Mich., and his mother sent the chest to him. He opened it, and in the old family Bible found documents which make him heir to property worth $10,000.

WARDEN McCOMB, of the California State Prison, at Folsom, has been planning extensive improvements in the prison grounds, and has had the hearty co-operation of Harry, the convict gardener. At the height of the work Harry's term expired, and though he begged hard to stay, he was sent to San Francisco a free man. Within ten days a Deputy Sheriff brought Harry back. "I've come to stay this time, General," he shouted, gleefully; "they ain't smart enough to keep me away from the garden." He had pleaded guilty to thefts enough to get a very long sentence within his beloved prison walls.

HERE is a curious item about newspapers which some one has compiled: "The number of pounds of type used in the newspapers of the United States is put at 6,889,878. The newspapers in the five States of New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Illinois, and Iowa set half the number of ems set in the United States. A pound of type averages about 370 ems, and an average of 2,500 is left in the cases. The average composition per newspaper is 74,147 ems for dailies, and for weeklies 57,197. The total amount of type set for one issue of the daily newspapers of the country would make 2,785 duodecimo volumes, and all the papers in a year would represent as much type-work as would make 10,000 volumes equal to 'Appleton's Cyclopaedia.' A slip of the work would extend from the Atlantic to the Pacific. Eight thousand persons are employed."

DUCK LAKE, in Nevada, lies on the north side of the Pyramid branch of the Truckee River and west of the upper portion of Pyramid Lake, from which it is only separated by a low hill or ridge of sand. It is circular in form and has neither inlet nor outlet. This small lake is a great resort for ducks, geese, swans, and other waterfowl when there is a heavy wind, and Pyramid Lake is made to boil like a pot. They then flock to this tea-brotherous sheet of water by tens of thousands. On such occasions the Indians prepare for a grand duck drive. All who have guns and many who are armed only with bows and arrows form in a line on the crest of the sand ridge between the two lakes. A number of Indians then man a fleet of rafts, and, starting from the western shore of the small lake drive the ducks and other fowl from their resting place. The birds start for Pyramid Lake again, and, as they fly across the dividing ridge the men and boys lying in wait bring down hundreds of them with guns and other weapons. Even small boys, lying on their backs with their bows on their feet, pull their arrows with both hands, sending the missiles with great force and killing birds in large numbers.

The engineers who made the survey of a new railroad at Niagara, which will run along the bank at the edge of the river, claim to have discovered some facts which will surprise scientists. When the survey was made in 1851 for the suspension bridge it was claimed from the surveys that the river was higher at the suspension bridge than at the foot of the falls, and this theory was accepted, it being claimed that "the immense pressure, from the falls, carried the water up hill." The present survey, which gives the first levels ever taken through the water line, explodes the up-hill theory, and shows that from the foot of the inclined road to the catwalk bridge, two miles, the incline is six feet, and from the catwalk bridge to the whirlpool, a little less than a mile, 484 feet, thus giving the water the terrible force it attains on going through the whirlpool.

UNDIMAYED by the long and terrible list of Arctic disasters, and in spite of the general protest against any more expeditions into that region which followed the Grady calamity, another explorer, Col. Gilder, proposes this summer to make another attempt to reach the pole. He proposes to go alone to the mouth of Hudson Bay, where he will recruit a party of natives with dogs and sledges, winter in the vicinity of Cape Sabine, and thence try to reach the Pole on sledges. He proposes to have with him only Esquimaux, who always live in the Arctic regions, and upon whom he can depend for transportation and subsistence, and as he is thoroughly acquainted with the country and the habits of the natives, and will have no white associates, he is confident of accomplishing his purpose. The consultations attaching to his scheme are that it will not throw away any of the people's money, as he does not propose to call upon the Government for help, and that when the final disaster comes the only white man involved will be the projector of the expedition, who deliberately takes his life in his hands with full knowledge of the fate which has never failed to overtake his predecessors, sooner or later.

Of the two thousand and odd persons in Orville, says a letter from that burg, there is one whose make-up has been augmented by an artificial addition that has placed him in a peculiar position—one that has never before been met with, and one that has knocked medical credulity all away. Some four years ago Rev. Richard P. Baughman went to bed with a vulcanized rubber plate holding four teeth (all incisors) in his mouth. During the night, while he was asleep, the plate became dislodged and slipped down his wind-pipe. All attempts to remove it were unsuccessful, and various physicians tackled the case to remove the foreign substance, which had been pushed into the esophagus and lodged there on the right side, where it is to-day. Rev. Baughman suffered indescribable pain in consequence, and from once a heavy weight of nearly two hundred pounds has fallen to the rather light weight of one hundred and thirty pounds. His speech betrays the presence of some foreign substance in his throat and his continual hawking is caused by the teeth, which have made him resemble a consumptive, yet a recent examination made by a medical expert in Chicago showed that his lungs were sound, and that his coughing was caused by the teeth. During the four years he has had the teeth in his esophagus he has not eaten any substantial food, such as bread, potatoes, meat, and like vegetables, being unable to swallow them, but has subsisted on raw beef chopped fine, soup, and stimulants. In drinking he is compelled to throw his head far back, as though gargling his throat, and allow the liquid to pass slowly down his throat. In his present condition he is wholly unable to pursue his calling. He is a man of 42 years and a veteran of the Forty-first Illinois Volunteers. He is a man of means, and offers $10,000 to the person who will remove the teeth without injuring him. If life is spared him he will go to the hospital at Paris next fall and have the teeth removed by the surgeon's knife.

"That tired feeling" from which you suffer so much, particularly in the morning is entirely thrown off by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

It is reported in Toledo, Ohio, that Frank Hurd has been offered $25,000 a year to act as counsel for John W. Mackay, the millionaire miner.

"Her face so fair, as flesh is deemed not, But heavenly portrait of bright angel's hue. Clear as the sky, without a blame or blot. Through goodly mixture of complexion-dew. And in her cheeks the vermeil red did show."

This is the poet's description of a woman whose physical system was in a perfectly sound and healthy state, with every function acting properly, and is the enviable condition of its fair patrons produced by Dr. Pierce's "Favorite Prescription." Any druggist.

The New York Freeman proposes Gen. Walter B. Grusham, of Indiana, for president, and ex-Gov. J. D. Long, of Massachusetts, for vice president in 1888.

LUCKY MEN WHO GET RICH.
"Some men do have luck in this world, for a fact," said a steady-looking individual who had taken a fifteen-cent lunch on State street, near Harrison, and who now stood in front of the Palmer House manipulating his tooth-pick, "but I ain't one of them."
"In my time I have invested many a good thousand dollars in mining stocks and never made a bit yet. A hit was what I needed to make about as bad as anybody ever needed it, but I couldn't make one."
"Now just look at Marshall Field. He hasn't been suffering for a dollar for a good while. Yet a few years ago, in settling with a country merchant, he was induced to take $300 worth of stock in the Chrysolite mine."
"He didn't want to take the stock and offered to make a big discount for cash, but the country merchant was hard up and so the dicker was made."
"Field took the stock, put it away in his safe, and in seven years has drawn $30,000 in dividends."
"I've heard, too, though I don't know how true it is, that about all the money he ever invested in mining property was the profits from this first venture."

master, will have a hearing before Com-cular letter explaining the new pension

Judge Ayres, of Indianapolis, decides the state must bear its share of the expense incurred in hunting up sequestered taxes. Marion county stood half of the expense and the other half was taken from the state fund. Charley Fant did the ferreting. How were his expenses charged up in Allen county?

vitation to the fourth annual convention of the Travelers' Protective association, which convenes at Baltimore June 23, 24,

Hughes," says the Grand Rapids Democrat.

Silas W. Hale, of Geneva, Ind., received the democratic nomination for state senator from Adams, Jay and Blackford counties. Mr. Hale is a good democrat and THE SENTINEL is pleased to note his popularity in the counties where he is so well known. His brother, J. D. Hale, is the democratic nominee for clerk of the Adams circuit court and is well known here, being a relative of H. H. Barcus.

The Wabash, St. Louis and Pacific railway ran excursion trains from Lafayette and Danville last Sunday, and with their well known generosity gave 50 per cent. of the proceeds to the relief fund.
Twenty crowded coaches came from both ways and about $600 was realized for the relief of the sufferers. Supt. G. W. Ste-tion and for the second time has placed Attica under obligations.

THE MISSING $10,000.

The Stolen Package Held a Hamilton Bank Collection Check and Remittance Papers.

The bank, express and police officers are searching for the $10,000 package, stolen while en route to the Van Wert bank. At Cincinnati and Van Wert nothing else is talked of, and the remnant package was examined by all interested parties at Cincinnati, Saturday.
In addition to the ten thousand dollars stolen the package also contained a check for collection on the Hamilton
National bank of Fort Wayne, a remittance slip and a letter of advice to the Van Wert National. These papers are also missing. The roll was re-examined this morning. The way bill and receipts show that it was carried by the Hamilton and Dayton from Cincinnati to Dayton, by the Dayton and Union from Dayton to Greenville, by the Cincinnati,
Jackson and Michigan from Greenville to Van Wert, and was delayed one day.
The package passed through Indiana and was there marked late. This delay no doubt gave the thief time and opportunity to do his work. The wrapper was carefully opened at one end, and the money and papers extracted. Between two pieces of pasteboard is packed a slip of brown paper, in which the bank had wrapped the bills before putting on the outside inclosure. A Bee Line bill of an excursion to Cincinnati, pieces of brown paper and a slip marked "United States Express," No. 425. This discovery is considered good evidence that the theft was committed in some express company or car. The package was carefully tied and slipped into the original wrapper, but did not fill the space occupied by the money. The vacuum was, however, neatly stuffed with cotton, restoring the former rich, plump appearance and soft, exclusive feeling imparted when the sense of touch is brought in contact with $10,000 in bank bills. It is shown that in nineteen minutes after the express train arrived at Van Wert the package was delivered, receipted for and opened.
